The gorgeous pink glitter, chock full of golden shimmer, went straight to the top of my lust list. Of course, the bargain hunter in me decided to go on a cheat-search before I made any final commitments. And I'm so glad I did it! Browsing the Milani section at my local CVS, I found Milani Crystal Gloss Summer Baby for just $4.50. I made a quick size comparison with the MAC Lychee Luxe Lipglass tube at my fingertips, and although the Milanese sheen looks smaller because of its lid, it actually contains more product (4.86g compared to 4.8g for MAC). The summer child also has exactly the same sticky texture and vanilla aroma as MAC Lipglasses. Milani Crystal Gloss's Summer Time Baby Although its packaging may not look so good, Summer Baby is a great alternative to MAC Nymphette, especially if you prefer to save money on something else. And for all of you Nymphette fans out there, wouldn't that make a big backup? ☺ here are our dupes for MAC Lust, which has a moderately warm tone, light brown with a cream finish.
